PRESS RELEASE

KASTO-Racine, Inc. is now KASTO, Inc.

“We’ve changed our name, but not who we are. Our dedication to product quality and customer satisfaction remains the same,” says Werner Rankenhohn, President of the newly renamed KASTO, Inc. KASTO, Inc. (formerly KASTO-Racine, Inc.) began US operations in 1975. Today sales and service of KASTO products for the United States originate from its 26,000 sq. ft. location in Export, PA.

The KASTO name has been recognized worldwide for over 160 years as the leader for metal saws and automated storage systems. Founded in 1844 by Karl Stolzer in the Black Forest area of Germany, the company currently has subsidiaries in France, Great Britain, Switzerland, as well as the United States. To date, more than 125,000 KASTO sawing machines are in operation and more than 1,500 storage commissioning systems have been installed throughout the world.
